IMPORTANT NOTE: If the name and/or address on your Change of Address form does not match the name in the receivership records of the HOW Companies (Home Owners Warranty Insurance Company, Home Owner's Warranty Corporation, Home Warranty Corporation), you will need to provide documentation that you are the legal successor to the distribution rights of the person or company listed as the Builder Distributee in those records (if your name has changed), and/or documentation that the address listed in those records was formerly your address under your current name or a prior name (if your address has changed). Such documentation may include, for example:

- * A copy of a document you received from the HOW Companies bearing the name and address that were in the HOW Companies' records;
- * An old bank statement bearing the name and address that were in the HOW Companies' records;
- * An old utility bill or insurance bill bearing the name and address that were in the HOW Companies' records; or
- * A government-issued document bearing the name and address that were in the HOW Companies' records.
